

HOME RESET AI

The Room Organization Planner

A room-by-room template for giving every category of item an actual, specific home.

"Organized isn't a look. It's every item having a place it goes back to."

HOME RESET AI

WELCOME

Organizing, Room by Room

Read this first

This planner is a template you'll reuse for every room in your home. The same five questions work whether you're organizing a kitchen, a closet, or a home office — answer them for one room at a time, and you'll end up with a system that's actually specific to how you live, not a generic Pinterest setup.

Five Questions, Every Room

Question	Your answer
What's the room's main function?
What categories of items live here?
What do you reach for most often?
What storage do you already have (shelves, drawers, bins)?
What's one thing that always ends up out of place?

Organization Plan

Category of items	Where it lives now	Where it should live

The Frequency Rule

Daily-use items go at eye level or arm's reach. Occasional-use items go higher, lower, or further back. Rarely-used items can live in less convenient storage entirely.

Organization Plan

Category of items	Where it lives now	Where it should live

Organization Plan

Category of items	Where it lives now	Where it should live

AI companion prompt: "I'm organizing my [room]. Here are the categories of items that live there: [list them]. Help me group these logically and suggest which should be most accessible."

Labeling & Containment

The step that actually makes a system last

Why Labels Matter

A system only you understand falls apart the first time someone else in the household puts something away. Labels — even simple handwritten ones — turn your organization into something anyone can maintain.

Container / zone	Label

SYSTEMS IN PLACE

Every Room Now Has a Logic to It

Not just tidy for a photo — actually organized around how you live.

Continue with the Moving Planner whenever a bigger transition is ahead.

HOME RESET AI