Soft Life Money Makeover

A softer way to get her money right.

*"You can be gentle with yourself and serious about your money.
Both, not one or the other."*

SOFT LIFE SOCIETY AI

No Shame, Just a System

Read this first

Most money advice is either punishing (cut everything, feel guilty) or vague (just manifest abundance). This makeover is neither - it's a calm, honest system: see where you actually stand, understand what's been running your decisions, build a rhythm that doesn't require willpower every day, and give every dollar a soft, simple plan.

By the end, you'll have:

- ☐ A clear, judgment-free picture of your current money situation
- ☐ One belief about money you're ready to let go of
- ☐ A simple weekly and monthly money rhythm you'll actually keep
- ☐ A plan for your next 90 days with money, in writing

The Gentle Money Snapshot

You can't soften what you haven't looked at

Category	Amount
Monthly income (take-home)
Monthly essentials (rent, bills, groceries)
Monthly debt payments
Current savings
Total debt

Before vs. After

Before you looked, what did you expect to feel? After looking, what did you actually feel? Notice the gap - it's information, not a verdict on you.

Where the Story Started

Your money habits aren't random - they were learned

For each prompt, write what comes up first, unedited.

Growing up

What did money look like in your house growing up - scarce, tense, never discussed?

The loudest voice

Whose voice do you hear when you spend or save? What do they say?

Still true?

Pick one belief from above. Is it actually still true for your life today?

Her Simple Money Rhythm

Small, repeatable checkpoints beat a system you'll abandon in a week

Ritual	When	What it covers
Weekly money date		Balances, upcoming bills, one goal check-in (10-15 min)
Monthly reset		Review last month, adjust one category, set next month's focus
Quarterly check-in		Redo the snapshot from Step 1 and compare

The Soft 90-Day Money Plan

Turning the reset into real, gentle progress

Priority	Target by Day 90	First small step

2.

The One Constraint

What's most likely to knock this plan off track - irregular income, one recurring expense, an old habit?
Name your workaround now, while you're thinking clearly.
