The Soft Life Blueprint

Your roadmap to the life you're building.

"A soft life isn't a lucky life. It's a designed one."

Before You Build, Look

Read this first

A blueprint only works if it's drawn from the truth of where you actually stand, not where you wish you stood. This workbook moves in four passes: an honest audit of your life as it is today, a values check so your goals are actually yours, a short list of what matters most right now, and a 90-day roadmap that turns all of it into Monday mornings instead of good intentions.

By the end, you'll have:

- ☐ An honest map of where each area of your life stands today
- ☐ Your top 5 values, named specifically - not borrowed from anyone else
- ☐ Three priorities for the next 90 days, chosen on purpose
- ☐ A written roadmap broken into monthly and weekly moves

The Honest Life Audit

You can't design a life you haven't looked at clearly

Area	Score (1-10)	What's actually true here right now
Career / purpose
Money
Health & body
Relationships
Home & environment
Fun & rest

The Pattern

Look at your two lowest scores. Is there a thread connecting them - a fear, a habit, a person, a belief?
Name it in one sentence.

Naming Your Real Values

Not the values that sound good - the ones that are actually yours

Most people can list values they think they should have. Fewer can point to proof. For each value below that resonates, write one real moment from the past year where you actually lived it - if you can't, it might not be a real value for you yet, just an aspirational one.

Freedom Proof from the past year:	Security Proof from the past year:	Connection Proof from the past year:
Growth Proof from the past year:	Ease Proof from the past year:	Beauty Proof from the past year:

Your Top 3 Priorities

Everything else waits - these three don't

Pull from your lowest-scoring areas and your named values. Choose three priorities for the next 90 days.
Not ten - three.

Priority	Why this, why now	What "done" looks like at Day 90
1.
2.
3.

The 90-Day Roadmap

Three priorities, three months, one map

Priority	Month 1	Month 2	Month 3
1.
2.
3.

This Week's One Move

Of everything on this map, what's the single smallest action you could take before this week ends? Do that first - momentum beats perfection.

These prompts turn what you've written into something you can actually work from day to day.

"Here are my top 3 priorities and my 90-day roadmap: [paste it]. Turn Month 1 into a week-by-week checklist I can actually follow."

"Here's my honest life audit: [paste it]. Ask me one question at a time about my two lowest-scoring areas until we find what's really going on."

"Here are the values I said are mine, with proof from the past year: [paste them]. Point out anywhere the proof feels thin so I can get honest about it."

THE MAP IS DRAWN

Now You Just Walk It

A blueprint doesn't build the life - your next 90 days does. Revisit this every quarter and redraw the map as you change.
